Message from Chief Tom McKenzie

In reviewing the 2011 Annual Report it is evident that the hard work and dedication of our sworn and non-sworn members continues to result in many successes as well as the ability to rise to the challenges we face. I truly believe we have the best Police Service in Canada and this is demonstrated each and every day by the diligence and perseverance of our members.

The mission of the Lethbridge Regional Police Service is providing safe communities and all of our members are expected to serve the citizens of Lethbridge and Coaldale with respect, honesty, integrity, excellence and commitment. As an organization we are guided by the four pillars of policing – public safety, public trust, public confidence and professionalism – and each shift presents an opportunity to achieve our vision of safe neighborhoods through partnerships, community participation and excellence in service delivery.

In 2011 the Service drafted and implemented a Business Plan that will guide operations for the next three years. We also worked closely with the Lethbridge Police Association to develop strategies such as the staggering of start times and the creation of a support shift in order to enhance service levels, as well as the addition of a second Sergeant on each patrol team. In addition, capacity was increased in investigative units and numerous community programs and partnerships were strengthened.

Other successes include the hiring of 14 sworn members and 18 Victim/Witness Services volunteers, accreditation by the province as well as the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA) and a reduction in many areas of crime.

In 2011 there were 50,029 police actions taken in Lethbridge and Coaldale, including calls for service and other officer-initiated events. Our clearance rates continue to exceed the national average and our statistical review shows overall reductions in both crimes against persons and crimes against property.

As we look back it's also important to reflect on the loss of Sgt. Sean Gurney who passed away suddenly while off duty. Sean was a leader in this organization and his loss impacted us all. I appreciate the support you provided to each other and Sean's family following his death and I'm grateful for the support we received as an organization from the community.

In closing, I would like to thank each of our members for their productivity in 2011 and as we move forward I encourage everyone to continue working together with our communities to develop initiatives to combat crime and disorder as well the quality of life issues that impact our citizens.

Chief Tom McKenzie

Lethbridge Regional Police Service History

The Lethbridge Regional Police Service was established in 1902 and Thomas Lewis was appointed Chief Constable. At that time, a total of two officers served an estimated population of 2000 people.

In 2002 the Lethbridge Regional Police Service celebrated 100 years of policing the City of Lethbridge. In 2004 the Lethbridge Police Service became the Lethbridge Regional Police Service following a regionalization agreement to provide policing services to the Town of Coaldale.

LRPS Division Highlights

Criminal Investigation Division Inspector Colin Catonio

The Criminal Investigation Divisions investigates ongoing, complicated and major criminal cases that require specialized and dedicated resources.

The Criminal Investigation Division added personnel in 2011, concluded a number of major cases and continued to pursue organized crime, the drug trade, violent crimes, domestic crimes and fraudulent activity in Lethbridge and Coaldale.

Local solve rates once again exceeded the national average, notwithstanding the growing complexity of investigations and the increased demands placed on investigators.

In 2011 two members were added to the Special Operations Unit, which is responsible for investigating drug crimes. SOU continued to pursue supplier-level drug trafficking networks with notable seizures of heroin and cocaine demonstrating their success throughout the year. The trend toward regional, provincial and national organized crime networks is well-established in the Lethbridge region and our investigative efforts regularly require working jointly with other police agencies within the Alberta Law Enforcement Response Teams (ALERT) umbrella.

Investigations involving violent crimes almost invariably arise from the drug world, organized crime or domestic violence. Violent crimes associated to the collection of drug debts or disputes over supplies and territory continue to occur in our community. These investigations consume a significant amount of time and human resources and are often challenged by reluctant and uncooperative witnesses. Domestic violence has a broad impact to family and community and investigators continue to work with victims to investigate crimes, conduct threat assessments and facilitate intervention by support organizations.

Economic crime that is facilitated or orchestrated through digital technology is ever-increasing whether it involves identity theft, fraudulent schemes or investments scams. Victims in Lethbridge and Coaldale are not immune to these crimes and investigators in the Economic Crimes Unit continue to be challenged by the diverse and complex nature of fraudulent offences. Locally detection and prosecution of all manner of economic crimes continues to yield success.

Property crimes including break and enters, thefts from vehicles, mischief and other offences continue to impact the community. In the fall of 2011 members of the Priority Crimes Unit dismantled an auto theft ring related to organized crime that was responsible for the theft of vehicles totaling $300,000.

Support Services Division Inspector Jeff Cove

The Support Services Division supports the Police Service in a number of areas including Information Technology (IT), records management, tactical, K9 and explosives disposal, as well as the joint management of the Public Safety Communications Centre.

In 2011 the Information Technology Section was tasked with a number of projects as we upgraded our computer-aided dispatch in the Public Safety Communications Centre (PSCC) to streamline the process for citizens who call for emergency assistance. In addition IT staff played a large role in moving the PSCC to its location in the new Fire Headquarters building. The IT Section also completed a number of server upgrades and software enhancements to ensure LRPS continues to make efficient use of technology to create capacity and bolster our internal communication capacity.

The Public Safety Communications Centre was busy in 2011 preparing and ultimately moving to the new Fire HQ building as well as hiring and training new personnel. Training also took place on the new computer-aided dispatch system for the Fire Service call-taking and dispatching and upgraded ones for the Police Service. Amongst all of this change the PSCC managed more than 68,000 events of which 49,000 were actions for the police including calls for service and police initiated traffic stops, as well as over 50,000 911 calls.

In the Support Services Section, The Canine Unit saw two new police dogs and handlers selected and commence their training to replace two of our older dogs who entered a well-deserved retirement. In the Records Management Unit, our staff managed over 49,434 files created as a result of a police action from calls for service to issuing traffic tickets. In order to create capacity for our frontline officers, we have completed the re-deployment of the management of minor, non-criminal occurrence reports to our Alternative Reporting Team. This frees up a significant amount of time for our frontline officers to conduct more proactive policing initiatives and respond to calls for service as well as slightly less paperwork.

The LRPS continues to work toward our rollout of the provincial Alberta Police Integrated Information Initiative (API 3) which will see all police services in the province share information for a more comprehensive intelligence-led approach to public safety for all of our citizens. We continue to work towards a late 2012 rollout in Lethbridge and Coaldale as part of this important initiative.

Community Policing Division Inspector Bill Kaye

The Community Policing Division provides a frontline response to calls for service.

Responding to calls for service from citizens in Lethbridge and Coaldale is the main responsibility of the Community Policing Division and ensuring staffing levels are maintained in order to provide a quick and efficient response is crucial. In 2011 the Community Policing Division focused on restructuring the deployment of personnel to better meet the needs of our communities.

In the past few years the number of police officers available to respond to calls for service has grown which has enabled us to address the span of control and provide more street level supervisors. In 2011 a second, frontline supervisor was added to each patrol team which will allow for greater coaching and mentoring of our younger members and also increase the quality of service we provide.

To supplement this frontline response, the CPD relies on the work of our Victim Services Unit and Community Resources Unit including School Resource Officers, Cultural Liaison and Community Liaison officers. These units provided a wide variety of services and initiatives aimed at crime prevention and intervention. In 2011 our Victim Services Unit recruited and trained 20 new volunteers to assist victims of crime or tragedy. In total VSU is staffed by more than 50 crisis support workers who can be called in when needed.

Within the Community Resources Unit, the Cultural and Community Liaison officers provided a variety of presentations and programs in Lethbridge and Coaldale to help bridge gaps between the police, new immigrants, seniors, students and diversities.

Traffic enforcement is also a critical component to providing safe communities and in 2011 we were successful in implementing an initiative to expand our fleet to once again include police motorcycles. These motorcycles will be used for a variety of activities, but traffic enforcement is the priority.

Administrative Services Division Inspector Tom Ascroft

The Administrative Services Division manages the Police Service's budget, business activities, human resource and public complaint investigations.

A great deal of the work done in the Administrative Services Division during 2011 will help to ensure the Service's continued success over the next few years.

The Policy and Accreditation Unit once again completed successful accreditation processes by Alberta Provincial Policing Standards and the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA). All police services in Alberta are required to meet provincial standards however CALEA accreditation is voluntary and demonstrates a commitment by LRPS to hold itself to the highest standards in law enforcement.

In 2011 the Administrative Services Division led the planning and preparation of a new three-year operating budget as well as a new business plan that will guide the Police Service's activities through 2014. Both of these documents were approved late in the year following rigorous consultation with police members, the community, Lethbridge Regional Police Commission and Lethbridge and Coaldale Councils.

A new collective agreement with the Lethbridge Police Association was ratified in the fall of 2011 which resulted in additional benefits for members, as well as changes to shifting that will provide improvements to operations and service delivery.

In addition, the Recruiting and Training Units hired and trained 14 new police officers. At the end 2011 the Lethbridge Regional Police Service had an authorized strength of 168 sworn members as well as 51 non-sworn members and 49 volunteers.

2011 Statistical Report

*In memory of Sergeant

Statistical Report - Methodology

This statistical information is derived from computerized data obtained from the Lethbridge Regional Police Service report in NICHE, entitled Occurrence Stats –All Violations. An incident may be comprised of one or more offences or violations of the law, or non- offence occurrences and therefore all of these are included in our totals. The data was extracted on May 9, 2012 and is subject to variation from previously published statistical reports due to the nature of offences being reported and cleared. Data is calculated on a calendar year basis consisting of data from January 1 through December 31. This data is further confirmed through review by the investigational units.

OFFENCES are counted based on the reported date. CLEARANCES are counted in the month the offence is either CLEARED BY CHARGE or CLEARED OTHERWISE. An offence is CLEARED BY CHARGE when at least one offender has been identified and charged in connection with that offence. An offence is CLEARED OTHERWISE when at least one offender has been identified and there is sufficient evidence to lay a charge but no charge is laid for one of the following reasons:

- a) the offender dies or is committed to a Mental Institution,
- b) the complainant or an essential witness dies,
- c) the offender is less than 12 years old,
- d) the offender has diplomatic immunity or there is government policy preventing prosecution,
- e) the offender is not in Canada and cannot be returned,
- f) the offender has been charged or is serving a sentence for another incident and it is decided not to proceed with a charge for this particular offence,
- g) the complainant does not wish prosecution against the offender,
- h) the police decide to warn the offender or recommend the offender for the Alternative Measures Program instead of laying a charge.

An offence is UNFOUNDED when the investigation has determined that the complaint is without merit.

The CLEARANCE RATE is calculated by dividing the actual offences by the total offences cleared (offences cleared by charge plus offences cleared by other). Clearances also include offences reported in previous years and cleared in the current year; therefore for some offence types the clearance rate may exceed 100%.

The PERCENT CHANGE for incidents reported is calculated by subtracting the number of incidents for the preceding year from the number of incidents for the current year, dividing by the number of incidents for the preceding year then converting to a percent by multiplying by 100. For example, if there were 563 assaults in 2006 and 516 assaults in 2007, then the percent change is calculated as follows: $(516-563)/563 \times 100 = -8.3\%$. When the percent change is displayed as “-”, it simply means statistically the mathematical equation cannot be carried out as it is trying to divide by 0.

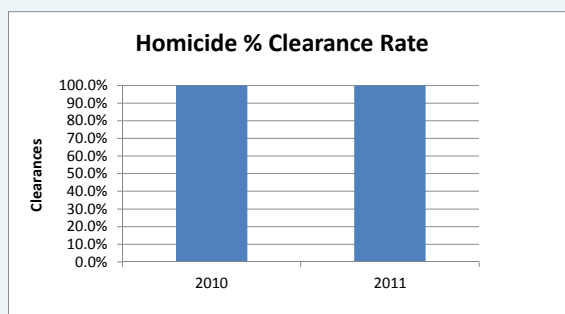

TRAFFIC OFFENCES are counted based on the reported date. Generally, a traffic offence relates to a charge laid for a specific violation. Abandoned vehicles and Hit and Run collisions are exceptions. They are reported and cleared in the same manner as non- traffic offences.

Domestic Violence incidents decreased by 18% in 2011, which is reflected in the decrease in charges. Family dispute charges are significantly lower due to these offences not necessarily being chargeable. Clearance rates are not shown due to the fact that there is no actual charge for the domestic violence category (i.e. the charge would be assault and not domestic violence).

Incidents of crimes against persons have decreased by nearly 13% in 2011, however clearance rates remained relatively stable (does not include domestic violence or family disputes). A high clearance rate indicates successful investigation and follow-up in regards to crimes against persons.

Both the number of incidents of Break and Enter and the clearance rates have decreased in 2011. Once again, please be aware that large percentages of change reflect small absolute numbers rather than any real increase.

Thefts are divided into categories of general theft, theft from vehicle and theft by shoplifting. Each category is then divided further into offences where the value of the property stolen either exceeded $5000, or was under $5000. The total number of thefts does not include the number of auto thefts reported. The number of theft offences decreased in 2011 mainly due to the decrease in incidents in the categories of shoplifting under, theft under and theft from auto under.

Motor vehicle thefts in Lethbridge are not generally part of any organized crime operations. Due to the fact that the majority of stolen vehicles are recovered and 68% of those recovered were found in Lethbridge, it is clear that the predominate motive for motor vehicle theft is for transportation. The proportion of vehicles recovered in Lethbridge has remained fairly consistent with 72% in the previous year (2010).
